TO THE SWEATERS

Corporations Becoming More Liberal With Employees.

Profit Sharing Plans Are Now moved.

The common workers, those who receive the lowest pay, are the ones who must need share in the profits they help to create. Bonuses and a share of the profits and well-paid officials are all right and may be necessary to require the service of the right kind of men. But, ordinary workers, women as well as men, should also be considered in this connection. After all, the basis of industry rests in the rank and file of workers.

Very well, see that the basis is properly attended to, or your whole structure is in danger of toppling sooner or latter.

Let each corporation strive to give

A Change Coming. The European war will alter the whole status of government; of capital and labor. The men who used bullets will, hereafter, use the ballot to assert themselves. We are to witness a changed order.

The common people are to rise up in their might and take a stronger hand to running things.

to assert themselves. We are to witness a changed order.

The common people are to rise up in their might and take a stronger hand in running things.

It behooves capital in this country to remove every reasonable cause for complaint on the part of the rank and file. One of the most practicable and essential steps now within sight is the adoption of profit-sharing, the beneficiaries to include all classes of employers, skilled and unskilled.

Both these suggested steps are feasible if capital will but arouse itself, rub its eyes and discover the vital nocessity for moving before it is driven.

To Rank and File.

This money goes to the rank and file in the case of this corporation, however, a serious effort has been made to have employees become stockholders, and some 40,600 workers now hold shares on which special dividend payments are made. There is a growing need for devising ways and means for sharing profits for all workers from the highest to the lowest. The puorest paid workers usually are the most diaffless and undependable.

HAPPINESS

This is the glad, "make-hap-py" season of the year. Al-though happiness is not bought nor sold, yet it is easily found in surroundings where there's an atmosphere of contentment.

In making others happy, we ourselves find happiness. Ah there's the secret. And how well that could be applied right now, and how far-reaching its good effects would be.

When one thinks how little it is hard to imagine many a little tot getting up early Chris mas morning to find only a empty stocking.

A writer has said, "The green blessies of marking as within blessings of mankind are within us, and within our reach, but we shut our eyes, and, like peo ple in the dark, we fall foul upo the very thing we search for, without finding it." He means without inding it. He means that we have happiness within our grasp and don't realize it Let us hope, however, that everybody will at one time or another try to make some one else happy.
